

Diana McGough

Diana McGough has been dancing since the age of four, receiving her dance education at Encore Dance Center in Lancaster, PA, under the guidance of Alvina Kline, Marjorie Dougherty, and Karen Meyer. Diana attended Shippensburg University, and graduated Cum Laude with a Bachelors Degree in Marketing. Her dancing career also continued at Shippensburg, where she was a member, and became the Director, of Shippensburg's In-Motion Dance Troupe.

Diana has had the unique opportunities of dancing on Royal Caribbean's Nordic Empress Cruise Ship, dancing at Disney World's Epcot Center, and taking master classes from the Radio City Rockettes and at Broadway Dance Center and Steps on Broadway, New York City.

Diana began teaching at Holliday Dance in 2002, and specializes in musical theatre productions, jazz, tap, and lyrical. She has received many overall high-scoring awards for her choreography. Diana has also received "Outstanding Choreography" judges' awards for her competition choreography.

In 2012 Diana's Senior Production Water for Elephants was awarded the highest score of the entire competition, scoring a 299.5 out of 300 points, at Dance Educators of America Regional Competition, Lancaster, PA. Diana is proud to be a member of the Holliday Dance family and enjoys passing on her love and passion for dance on to her students.
